Bio (224 words)

Mike Breeze is a nationally recognized Goal Achievement Expert, best-selling author, and Mindset Coach dedicated to helping individuals and organizations unlock their full potential. As the founder of Made4Success, Mike has spent over two decades equipping people with the tools to achieve their Big Goals and develop the influence needed to succeed in every area of life.

With certifications in Neuro-Linguistic Programming, Maxwell Leadership Coaching, Behavioral Change, Emotional Intelligence, Clinical Hypnosis, Lifestyle Management, Eric Lofholm International Sales Training, and Business Consulting, Mike blends proven success strategies with powerful communication techniques to create lasting results.

A sought-after speaker, Mike has delivered over 5,000 speeches and interviews, inspiring audiences to overcome challenges, maximize performance, and seize new opportunities. His engaging, relatable style makes complex concepts easy to apply, whether in professional growth, leadership, or personal development.

In addition to helping individuals and teams achieve their goals, Mike teaches the art of Everyday Influence—the ability to connect, inspire, and persuade in business and life. His course, Everyday Influence: How to Connect, Inspire, and Succeed, provides a step-by-step approach to building rapport, understanding personality-driven persuasion, and using powerful words and phrases to increase influence instantly.

Whether you're looking to achieve more, lead better, or communicate with impact, Mike Breeze gives you the mindset and methods to make it happen—because with the right tools, anything is possible.
